Government sanction, the observance of the Dasara festivities is purely to Hindus only and as such it is difficult to characterise it as a national function. However the expenditure is to be incurred out of the municipal funds on which the A G has no control. The Collector states that the amount has already been drawn and spent.

5) It is therefore for consideration whether the expenditure may not be sanctioned for 52-53 as a special case in financial concurrence, the Collector being directed not to incur such expenditure in future.
